

SUBJECT CURRICULUM OF INTENSIVE CREDIT PROGRAM

Duration: 15 weeks / February 24, 2020 (Mon) – June 05, 2020 (Fri)

6 subjects, 18 credits and 552 hours

Objectives of the subjects

The English language is used everywhere. To succeed in a world where English is used for international-interpersonal communication, it is necessary to learn the English language. These subjects are designed to develop our vocabulary and our skills to listen, speak, read and write as well as adapt our language to an ever increasing number of topics, areas of interest and communication situations. These subjects will also contribute insight into the way we live and how others live, and their views on life, values and cultures.

Descriptions of the subject

Oral Communication 1,2

This subject provides a structured opportunity to develop fluency in spoken English. Students study and practice speaking skills needed to function appropriately in the world. The emphasis of this subject is on the development of skills appropriate to formal speaking, as well as on the diagnosis and correction of persistent pronunciation problems, and on the correct use of stress and intonation.
